Necessity is the mother of invention

In A, the folding sequence results in a traditional origami hat. When opened, the flaps of the brim can come apart. I wanted a hat with a more secure brim so I invented a different folding sequence to create a sturdier hat. Necessity is the mother of invention.

